RMH recently partnered with Drew Marine and their creative consultant, Leonard Feehan Associates, to produce an eye-catching trade show exhibit. RMH was called upon to produce all of the graphic panels and supply all of the trade show hardware. The project consisted of graphic wrapped podiums with aluminum counter tops, a media wall with graphic panels and halogen lights and a display wall with three magnetic graphic panels, which could be joined to create a single seamless display or separated to create three individual displays.
